The Original Innovators

When the original innovators take care of your packaging, you're guaranteed to serve your customers the best.

We are a New Zealand owned and operated business, proud to offer sustainable and affordable, premium quality packaging made from plants.

Traditional packaging is often made from oil-based plastic, and generally never breaks down. There is no doubt plastic waste is a global issue, and there is a rapidly growing movement toward sustainable alternatives among consumers.

As pioneers of the compostable packaging industry in our country, we aim to divert waste from landfill and reduce plastic waste with certified compostable packaging and a circular economy.

Above all, we make doing good, good for business and work every day to inspire organisations to incorporate sustainability into their operations, procurement policy, CSR and bottom line.

We look forward to furthering discussions with you.
